Pafilia Holds an Employee Blood Donation Day

Pafilia Property Developers, in cooperation with the Limassol General Hospital, recently organised a Blood Donation day for its employees at its Sales Office in Limassol. This initiative was yet another action of the company's expansive Company Social Responsibility program in its bid to support and contribute to the local community. The initiative was very well received by Pafilia's employees who, comprehending its noble cause, were eager to support it and donate blood. It's worth noting that "Blood Donation Day" is an institution for Pafilia in recent years, while the employee's response to each blood sampling exceeds any expectation,
